And let us consider one another in order to stir up love and good works, not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the manner of some, but exhorting one another, and so much the more as you see the Day approaching. (Hebrews 10:23-24)

Hebrews 10:24-25

And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near.

James 4:7 - Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned.

James 3:13-18 - Who is wise and understanding among you? By his good conduct let him show his works in the meekness of wisdom. But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast and be false to the truth. This is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic. For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice. But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial and sincere. And a harvest of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

James says there are two kinds of wisdom in the world; one earthly and one heavenly. The first is marked by selfish ambition and disorder (vv. 14-16); the second, by humility, submission, and peacemaking (vv. 13, 17-18). Earthly wisdom puts self-first. Heavenly wisdom favors others, leading to a life of humble deeds (v. 13). Heavenly wisdom leads to humble deeds because it places God above self (Prov. 9:10).

Which wisdom are you following today? - According to James 3:13, humility – in contrast to envy and selfish ambition (14) – is at the core of wise living. Comparing the description of earthly wisdom in vv. 14-16 to heavenly wisdom in 17 is like moving from earth's dark shadows into heaven's brilliant light. In vs. 17, seven characteristics of heavenly wisdom are noted: it's pure, peace-loving, considerate, submissive, merciful, impartial, and sincere. These things could well represent what was slacking among James's readers. Like smaller stones that surround the major relational stone of humility, James's list attributes that describe God's wisdom and contribute to relational harmony and wholeness. These qualities are comparable to those produced by God's Spirit listed in Gal. 5:22-23 - But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such things there is no law.
