And let us consider one another in order to stir up love and good works, not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the manner of some, but exhorting one another, and so much the more as you see the Day approaching. (Hebrews 10:23-24)

Evening: The Promise of Things Working Together for Good

Hebrews 10:24-25

And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near.

James 4:7 - Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned.

Representing Jesus: 2 Cor. 5:20 – We are therefore Christ’s ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us (NLT). Saying we are Christian and wearing clothes with Christian messages are good things. However, the Bible teaches that the way we live and love as we share the gospel is the true identifier of those who follow Jesus. Paul and the other believers in Corinth were compelled, or driven, to please God by living with an eternal perspective while sharing Him with others, (2 Cor. 5:9-14).

When we are committed to living for Christ instead of for ourselves, the Holy Spirit changes our perspective, character, priorities, and ways of interacting with others, (vss. 15-17). Our new life in Jesus is intended to represent Him while we point others to Him, “as though God were making his appeal through us” (v. 20). Empowered by the Spirit, we are given the joy and responsibility of representing Christ wherever we go.

Insight to 2 Cor. 5:9-10, 14-20. Paul says that the goal for believers in Jesus should be “to please him” (2 Cor. 5:9). As we share the gospel with others, how we live, and love identifies true believers. The pattern Christ established with the twelve disciples is also valid for today. Before they witnessed for Him through their words and actions, they looked, listened, and learned from Him. Of two of the twelve it was said, “when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, for they could see that they were ordinary men with no special training in the Scriptures. They also recognized them as men who had been with Jesus” (Acts 4:13). Those who represent Christ best are those who have been drawn to Him, forgiven by Him, and empowered by the Spirit to bear witness to His love and grace. They are men and women who have seen, listened to and learned from Jesus.
