And let us consider one another in order to stir up love and good works, not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the manner of some, but exhorting one another, and so much the more as you see the Day approaching. (Hebrews 10:23-24)

And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near.

James 4:7 - Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned.

Everything is against me! The Bible tells us of Jacob, a man who faced many hardships in his life. He had been told that a wild animal had torn his son Joseph to pieces by a ferocious animal (Gen. 37:22.) Then his son Simeon was held captive in Egypt, and he was afraid his youngest son Benjamin would also be taken from him. Overcome with grief he cried out, “Everything is against me!” (Gen. 42:36). But it wasn’t. Little did Jacob know that his son Joseph was very much alive and that God was at work “behind the scenes” to restore his family. Their story illustrates how God can be trusted even when we can’t see His hand in our circumstances. Our vision is limited, but God’s isn’t. And with Jesus as our hope, “if God is for us, who can be against us?” (Rom. 8:11). May we place our trust in Him.

In Genesis 37-50 we read an amazing story of Joseph, Jacob’s son, who dreamed that family members would bow down before him (37:5-11). The narrative takes some providential turns but finally the dream is fulfilled: “So we Joseph’s brothers arrived; they bowed down to him with their faces to the ground” (42:6). Far from God being against Jacob and his family, His bigger plan was to preserve them in accordance with His promise to Abraham to multiply his descendants to be “as numerous as the stars in the sky and as the sand on the seashore” (22:17). What was meant for harm humanly speaking (37:12-28), was, in the end, used by God for his good purposes (50:20). We need to learn to trust in God - And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose. (Romans 8:28.)
