And let us consider one another in order to stir up love and good works, not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the manner of some, but exhorting one another, and so much the more as you see the Day approaching. (Hebrews 10:23-24)

Hebrews 10:24-25

And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near.

James 4:7 - Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Mark 16:16 - Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned.

Accepting Guidance: James 3:8 – No human being can tame the tongue.

A horse's bit, like the human tongue, is small but important. Both have a great influence over something big and powerful – for the bit, it is the horse. For the tongue, it is our words (James 3:3, 5). Our words can run in different directions. “With the tongue we praise our Lord and Father, and with it we curse human beings” (v. 9). Unfortunately, the Bible warns that it is very hard to control our speech because words spring from our hearts (Lk. 6:45). Thankfully God's Spirit, who indwells every believer, helps us grow in patience, goodness, and self-control (Gal. 5:22-23). As we cooperate with the Spirit, our hearts change and so do our words. Profanity turns to praise. Lying gives way to truth. Criticism transforms into encouragement. Taming the tongue isn't just about training ourselves to say the right thing. It is about accepting the Holy Spirit's guidance so that our words generate the kindness and encouragement our world needs.

James 3:2-11: James challenges his readers about the use and power of words. He makes several analogies to small things that have a big impact: a horse's bit, a ship's rudder, a tiny spark. In the same way, controlling the relatively small tongue can keep the “whole body in check” (3:2). The book of Proverbs also has a great deal to say about the use of the tongue and its consequences. The topic is referenced more than any other topic in Proverbs.
